

RAMPAGE

About us and our editorial policy

rockvillerrampage.com© aspires to present the best obtainable version of the truth to the school, community and general public. We were selected as the 2003-2004 First Finisher by the Maryland Scholastic Press Association, and hope to win many more awards.

Opinion sections are intended to provide an inviting environment for discussion and give both those on and off the staff the opportunity to express their beliefs. All unsigned editorials are the opinion of the staff, but all signed columns and articles solely express the views of the individual writer and do not necessarily reflect the school population or the Rampage. We welcome comments on school or community issues from students, staff and the community, but have the right to edit or condense letters to the editor. Names may be withheld upon request.

The Rampage, Rockville High School's hard copy edition has been providing award winning coverage to the community from a student perspective for nearly twenty-five years. In addition to numerous individual honors, The Rampage has also won many team awards including:
